

Paper cobra

Forest cobras are a very adaptable animal. Not only can they climb trees but they are also very good swimmers. Their venom can cause death within just half an hour!

Forest cobras may be smaller than some of our other Lebialem Life members but they are just as mighty.

This is the forest cobra defence position; head raised and hood spread.
This is a warning to stay back.

CHALLENGE: With adult permission, cut out this cobra along the dotted lines. Decorate and show us your finished piece. Will it be resting or in the defence position?
